Leverage ResQNet's expertise and experience to craft a personalized blue-print for your E-initiatives

Mike O'Hara, Bank of America, on using ResQNet's Pilot Program:

"With the success of the order processing system, Bank of America is now planning to use ResQNet to improve selected internal financial applications by updating older "green screen" application and replacing paper reports. This was a groundbreaking process for us, and trail-blazed putting in a web front end to our legacy applications."
